

"FARGICAL OUTCOME" SAYS NICK CROOKSTON

Talking to Sheriff's Court Attempted
Liquor Legislation in Utah—
Visitors' Journal Today.

In the closing hours of the last session of the annual convention of Inter-mountain Sheriffs yesterday afternoon, Sheriff Crookston of Cache county declared there was too much politics in Utah, and cited the farcical outcome of the prohibition agitation at the last session of the state legislature. He recommended that the sheriffs get together and decide upon uniform liquor legislation to be urged upon the next legislature.

The convention has been in session in this city for the last two days, and it closes today with a trip over the Lucin cut-off and a spin up Ogden canyon to the Hermitage. The sheriffs will be the guests of Chief Special Agent Joseph Jones of the Oregon Short Line detective force on the lake trip. The peace-makers will also visit the state industrial school while at Ogden.

The last business session of the convention was held at Saltair Thursday afternoon. Considerable discussion was indulged in by the 30 sheriffs present as to ways and means for bettering the service and for improving methods of communication between the upholders of the law. Vice presidents of the association were also chosen, one from each state, as follows: Montana, J. K. O'Rourke of Butte, sheriff of Butte; Iowa, James A. Bennett of Boone; Idaho, James A. Bennett of Boise, sheriff of Ada county; Oregon, T. S. Taylor of Pendleton, sheriff of Umatilla county; Washington, Mack K. Pugh of Spokane; Utah, M. M. Bush of Tooele, sheriff of Tooele county; Wyoming, Jonathan Jones of Evanston, sheriff of Uinta county; Nevada, L. G. Clark of Elko, sheriff of Elko county.

Upon the suggestion of Sheriff John Knudsen of Sanpete county, it was decided to enlarge the association by asking the sheriffs of Colorado, Arizona and California to join. It was also decided to try and induce the commissioners from the various counties to pay the trip expenses of the sheriffs to the annual conventions.

REVISION OF BY-LAWS.
A committee was appointed to revise the by-laws of the association and present the revision to the next session, Sheriff O'Rourke of Montana.

tana, Sheriff John Ellis of Pocatello and Sheriff Sharp of Salt Lake being named as the committee.
A committee to draft resolutions of thanks to the Oregon Short Line Railroad company, the Saltair management, Warden Arthur Pratt of the Utah state prison, Howard Garrett of the Orpheum theater, and Sheriff Sharp of Salt Lake, for courtesies extended was named as follows: Sheriff Arthur Badger of Bear Lake, Mr. Bennett, and Sheriff Jonathan Jones of Evanston. The resolutions were prepared and unanimously adopted.

In the discussion which followed, Sheriff Sharp of Salt Lake urged the peace officers to be more prompt in answering correspondence. Courtesy as well as the running down of criminals requires the prompt attention of the officers to all correspondence, either by wire or letter.

BROWN WILL CONTEST.

No Hope of Settlement of Dispute Outside of Court.

According to the statement of one of the attorneys, there is no hope of a settlement outside of court in the case of Arthur Brown Bradley and others against Max Brown, executor of the estate of former Senator Arthur Brown who was killed by Mrs. Bradley in Washington. There is a dispute as to the value of the estate. Alice and Max, the beneficiaries under the will, claim that the estate is worth not more than $40,000, whereas the Bradley child claims through his attorneys that $150,000 is a low estimate.

The estate consists of the residence at 301 east South Temple street, a ranch in Idaho and other real and personal property. Max Brown asserts that his father suffered serious losses during the later years of his life.

UTAH ARTILLERY AT HEAD OF U. S. MILITIA

Fine Showing Made by Officers and Men of National Guard Subject of Favorable Comment.

Lieut. Alex Thomas of the light battery returned Wednesday evening, from Fort Riley, the largest artillery and cavalry post in the army, where a special summer school is being held for militia officers in these two branches of the service. There were 30 of these present from all over the country, and the lieutenant says there was something doing all the time, not the least of which was long horse back rides through heavy rains. The student officers were put through a course of sprouts they will long remember. But while it was hard, they readily admit the amount of instruction given was a game well worth the candle, and was of the very best kind. The two Utah officers more than held their own. They had been at Fort Riley but a short time before making their way to the highest classes. Lieut. Thomas receiving three promotions in as many days. Some of the militia officers who came there with checkered records, instead of up and up, and one captain of a Washington, D. C. battery made himself so unpopular by his insufferable arrogance that his fellow students banded him, one of the stunts he was put through, being an impromptu ducking in the nearest creek.

Capt. Webb remains a little while longer to pursue studies in special line, before returning home. It is not drawing a long bow to claim that the two Utah officers have not only maintained the high reputation of the service, but they are bringing back with them an additional experience that is sure to raise the Salt Lake battery to greater esteem than ever with the war department. In fact the battery has in the past been the recipient of so many favorable reports and commendations from inspecting officers, that the department sent out a special officer who had been making inspection a business for 14 years, to check up on our reports. His report amply justified the thousand and one things the others had said, so that the Utah light battery practically stands with the war department as high, if not higher than the crack New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania companies. Indeed the last inspection officer recommended that the methods of administration obtaining with the Salt Lake battery be adopted as a model for militia batteries generally.

After some deliberation in the governor's office Thursday afternoon, the committee awarded the making of the silver service for the battleship Utah to J. H. Leyson & Co., who represented the Gorham Manufacturing company of Providence, R. I. Five different firms presented plans and the final award was made to the Gorham company by a vote of 4 to 2, the two votes being given to Joseph M. Mayer & Co. of Seattle.

The service consists of about 150 pieces of silverware of the total value of $10,000. The members of the committee present Thursday were Gov. Spry, Col. D. C. Jackson, chairman; State Supt. of Schools A. C. Nelson, City Supt. of Schools D. H. Christensen, Mrs. A. W. McCune and Miss Fay Leeson.

"VERY RESPECTFULLY."

"Awaiting your reply"—such was added to the resolution of the city council sent yesterday to the Salt Lake Tribune asking it to name the two councilmen who are accused by the paper of having sold their influence to race track people.

QUESTION HIS SANITY.

William Hurton was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Beckstead of Midvale Thursday afternoon and brought to the county jail, where he will be held pending an investigation as to his sanity. Hurton has taken upon himself the difficult task of converting to his own peculiar religious views, the whole town of Midvale, and he is so persistent about it that his mind is thought to be affected.

AN UP-TO-DATE DRUGGIST says it is surprising how many old-fashioned remedies are being used, which goes to show that it is hard to improve some of our grandmothers' old, time-tried remedies. For instance, for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy, nothing equaling our grandmothers' "sage tea" has ever been discovered. Although, by the addition of sulphur and other ingredients, this old-fashioned brew has been made more effective as a scalp tonic and color restorer. Nowadays when our hair comes out or gets faded or gray, instead of going to the garden or garret for herbs and making the "tea" ourselves, we simply go to the nearest drug store and ask for a bottle of Wreth's Sage and Sulphur. This preparation is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wreth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

"For sale and recommended by Schramm - Johnson, druggs, special agents."
